

IForums 2016

Join us at The Lyceum on March 31st as the 2016 IForum series continues with

Housing Choice & Affordability Unlocking Opportunity

Demographic trends indicate that more housing options are needed if Connecticut's towns are to remain healthy and vibrant. Increasingly, high-resource municipalities are proactively evaluating their housing choices and enacting new zoning to provide the multi-family, mixed-income housing that the market is demanding. How can towns invite the development that's needed to ready their communities for the next generation?

Speakers will share:

- The legacy of past housing-policy practices.
- How the lack of housing choice affects children, their families, and town fiscal health and economic growth.
- Examples of how mixed-income housing is helping a variety of communities position themselves for success in the 21st Century.

Certified Planners:
CM credits pending approval.

The 2016 IForums are produced with the support of:

Department of Economic and Community Development

LIVING UP TO YOU™

The Key To Affordable Housing

Welcome:

Tom Condon

Hartford Courant columnist and editor

Keynote address by:

Richard Rothstein

Research Associate
Economic Policy Institute, Washington D.C.

Featuring:

- Dr. Paul Freeman
Superintendent of Schools
Guilford Public Schools
- Julie Savin
Director of Real Estate Development
NeighborWorks New Horizons
- Christine Nelson, AICP
Town Planner
Old Saybrook
- E. Patricia Llodra
First Selectman
Newtown
- Mark S. Barnhart
Director, Community & Economic Development
Fairfield

Thursday, March 31, 2016

The Lyceum, 227 Lawrence Street, Hartford

8:30am – 9:00am: Registration & breakfast

9:00am – 11:00am: Program

Register online: 2016marchforum.eventbrite.com

With thanks to our founding sponsor:

MELVILLE
CHARITABLE TRUST

More information:

www.pschoosing.org/2016-iforums