

Regional Plan Association

Join us for a session with Lincoln Land Institute scholar and author of Visualizing Density and the newly released Made For Walking

Julie Campoli

Also: Walkable Communities in MA
Maximizing our Commuter Rail Capacity

Tuesday, October 1st, 9 a.m. – Noon
Hall of Records, 200 Orange St., G2 Hearing Room, New Haven, CT
Free, pre-registration requested

Learn how your community can become the kind of walkable, vibrant neighborhood that millennials and boomers want to live in.

Made for Walking profiles 12 communities across the country who embraced walkability by encouraging a mix of housing and commercial activity and making sure that streets were comfortable and attractive for biking, walking, and transit.

The techniques employed – and the stunning results – have produced spectacular places to live, work, shop, eat, relax and, yes, WALK!

Massachusetts Planner Angus Jennings:
How Towns in Massachusetts created walkable, mixed-income development with grants similar to HOMEConnecticut

RPA CT Director Amanda Kennedy:
Investments needed in CT’s Metro-North railway to maximize ridership capacity and reliability

2.75 CM credits for certified planners have been approved for this event.

For more information and registration, contact:

Laura Bachman, Executive Assistant
Partnership for Strong Communities
laura@pschousing.org or 860-244-0066

Sponsored by Partnership for Strong Communities, Regional Plan Association and the CT Chapter of the American Planning Association